FALL WITH PAZZA AT BROOKLINE

Children Were Playing School When Structure on Brook Street Collapses.

ONE SUSPENDED IN THE AIR

One girl was seriously injured, two others were hurt in the ground while a crowd was looking on when the children were playing at No. 123 Brook street, Brookline, crashed to the ground. The injured girls were:

BRYAN RYAN, ten years old of No. 123 Brook street, in a serious condition at her home.

ELIZABETH BENNETT, four, of No. 11 Brook street.

Jennie Walsh, thirteen, of No. 11 Tabor place, the twelfth girl, was standing near the railing at the time the party, which stood on a level with the second floor, was torn from the ground, went crashing to the ground. The part of the railing to which the girl was clinging remained suspended in the air, and for several minutes the girl screamed for help. She was rescued by several men and was the only one of the twelve to escape unhurt.

The children were playing school. "Kiss me," said the teacher, they had their school books, their books for geography. So Sarah made him the teacher, and the children were playing school.

Several of the children fell on their heads as they lay on the ground. She was picked up by P. J. Timmerman, a policeman, who carried her to the hospital. She was taken to the office of Dr. J. W. White, who is on Harvard street, Brookline. It was reported she was internally injured.

Ernest Bennett to Wed Helen Walsh

Mercury Girl, However, Insists She Is to Be His Bride.

Ernest G. Bennett of No. 5 Mod street, Dorchester, who has denied that he is to marry his cousin, Helen E. McLaughlin, the Mercury girl who is the heroine of a recent story, told today for the first time the name of the girl he is actually to marry. She is Helen Walsh of No. 10 Tabor street, Dorchester, "Mercury last night," said Bennett. "I asked her about a year ago, and she said, 'I am ready to go with you, Ernest.'"

Miss McLaughlin, who has just come out of the hospital after a remarkable recovery from the effects of the police, declares she and Bennett are to be married next Wednesday.

Mr. Bennett, "Mercury's" mother, or rather his statement that he is to marry Miss Walsh.

Fishermen Sight New Sea Monster

And to Prove Story, Margaret Dillon's Men Bring in Plenty of Real Fish.

It is to be expected that the fishermen of the coast will bring in plenty of real fish.

It happened on Tuesday, one hundred and fifty miles from Boston.

It somewhat resembled a shark in conformation, but none on the Margaret Dillon ever saw a shark like this.

It was a dark black in color, on its back a huge, bottle-like, which curved back and was broad at the base and tapered at the end.

The fishermen gazed in amazement, while Sup. King, grasping his trusty harmonica, played "Sweet Adeline" by special permission of South Truro station.

The monster waited for the last note of the sweetly wailing song and then, diving, was seen no more.

PRAG IN CRASH OF BIG TRUCK

DRIVER AVERTS DISASTER

Several hundred people were packed around this afternoon when a heavy motor truck loaded with five tons of coal sped backward down Pemberton square and backed across the sidewalk of Boston's big square.

In the rear were a throng of men, women and children, and a crowd of onlookers. The driver, Daniel O'Connell of South Boston, applied his brakes, but in vain. The truck continued its wild career backward, smashing a police signal box, a plate glass window and jarring the shop building.

Pretty Actress Held as Raffles

Elsie V. Moran, a moving picture actress, was in the Municipal Court today charged with breaking and entering and larceny.

She is a pretty young girl, perhaps twenty-three years old and a pronounced brunette. After pleading not guilty to the charge, she was held in $1,000 bail.

The girl was arrested in Lynn yesterday by Inspector Thorne upon a warrant sent down by the Boston police. It is charged that while she was a roomer in the building house of Mrs. Colin Atkinson she entered the room of another boarder and stole a vest, a pair of trousers, a pair of military hat brushes and a travel bag.

The police say that in searching her room they found the clothing stuffed down behind the trunk, and that she had been seen to go out with the trunk.

DEMAND PARDON FOR CRIPPLE JAILED FOR SHOOTING THIEF

Massachusetts road today, and reading rubbed his eyes in wonder, how David D. Farnsworth had been sentenced to jail for killing the prowler captured at night by the Farnsworth poultry house, at a lonely spot in the town of Bridgewater.

All over the Eastern section of the State representative citizens declared that Farnsworth ought to be pardoned forthwith by Governor Foss and his councilors. A petition to that end may be ready for the legislature consideration before next Wednesday's meeting of the Executive Council.

The judge who sent the man to jail declares that he will not oppose his pardon.

Farnsworth is a cripple, 55 years old. He is a native of Indiana. He came to Bridgewater, just outside of Brockton, from Chicago, where he had been employed in a responsible position by the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad.

At Bridgewater, the Farnsworths were without any near neighbors. Farnsworth engaged in the poultry business. Two or three times his husband were entered at night and his stock taken.

Farnsworth complained to the town assessor.

Thereafter, the chicken thieves continued to call. There was no night patrolman on the town to stop them. There was, in fact, no "night" at all.

On the night of August 18, last, Mr. Farnsworth heard noises coming from the vicinity of the poultry house. He roused his husband. The two men went out into the darkness with an old shotgun he had borrowed from a neighbor.

To "frighten the thieves away," Farnsworth thought they might be more than one of them—the cripple fired several shots. When the noise ceased, he went back to bed. He didn't sleep much that night.

In the morning, the body of one Thomas Logan of Bridgewater was found on the highway. Logan had met his death by shooting. Farnsworth was arrested. He was tried last week, not for murder, but for manslaughter. Yesterday he was sentenced by Judge King to six months in the house of correction, or jail, at Plymouth.

"Farnsworth," said the judge, "I am unable to find any other way than a full sentence to show you that you can not take a human life."

"We are often tempted, in matters of this kind. We must learn to withstand them."

"I am sorry for you from the bottom of my heart and if the governor sees fit to extend clemency, I shall not raise my hand against it."

Farnsworth entered upon his sentence immediately.

"I have no fault to find," he said, "with the honorable justice who performed his duty in the only way open to him under the law. He could not criticize the District Attorney, who also did his duty."

"But I will say that I do not like."

Bondsman Gives Up Ipswich I. W. W. Chief

Hermann Charged with Inciting Riot Now in Salem Jail.

IPSWICH, June 27.—The appointment of a vigilance committee of seven men to drive the I. W. W. leaders out of town, led Nathan Hermann's bondsmen to surrender him today. He was out on $12,000 bail on a charge of inciting a riot, and the bondsmen feared the vigilantes would carry out their purpose and force him to leave town and jump his bail.

Chief Frank Hull, as soon as Hermann's bail was forfeited, rushed the prisoner to Salem and lodged him in a cell there for safekeeping, fearing an outbreak of strikers and an attempt to rescue the strike leader. Shortly after ward Frank Hullman of New York was arrested and charged with detaining the peace for detaining the police in a speech to the crowd.

The law which makes this situation possible.

"The poultry business is absolutely necessary. One cannot engage in this business in a large and profitable way within the thickly settled portion of any community."

"In many places, indeed, the poultry farmer is banished to the outskirts by the law. And then the law leaves him there, without its protection absolutely."

"I went out that night to protect my home and my property because the law would not do it for me. When I shot, however, it was without any intention to take a human life. Rather than have the hand of another on my hands I would have preferred any other fate imaginable. I deeply regret the death of this man. I had no intention of ever of mistaking him. I did not know who our visitor was, but I did want to get a step to these repeated raids upon my stock to be made."

The best people in Bridgewater went to the front for the unfortunate Farnsworth. They testified before Judge King, by letter and petition, to Farnsworth's excellent character.

Similar letters, and telegrams as well, came to the court at Plymouth from the Central West. High officials of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad pleaded with the court for clemency for their former associate and employee.

"And I have endorsed," said Judge King, to give substantial weight to these communications. Mr. Farnsworth should be proud of them."

UNCLE SAM PUTS O. K. ON 'SEPTEMBER MORN'

Copyright by the U. S. Government

"SEPTEMBER MORN."

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Uncle Sam officially and formally and without much red tape has decided that "September Morn" isn't naughty.

In a formal opinion Judge William R. Lamar, Assistant Attorney-General for the Post Office Department, held that Paul Chabas' painting wasn't obscene and that the reproduction of the art work didn't come under the postal ban.

A number of postmasters recently have been querying the department on the matter. "September Morn" has been barred from exhibition in a number of cities.

Too Topsy to Know.

The petition of Harry C. Bullard of Marlborough, who wants his marriage to Isabelle Fuller annulled on the ground that he was too tipsy to realize what he was doing, was heard today by Judge McLaughlin in the Superior Court at Salem. Bullard is a young shoe worker. He claims that his wife has also been known as "Elizabeth Tibbels."

Too Poor for Gettysburg.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 27.—John Francis Key, grandson of Francis Scott Key, author and composer of "The Star Spangled Banner," is in a State Home for Confederate veterans at Havville, Md., almost heart broken because he has failed to obtain transportation to Gettysburg for the anniversary celebration.

DENIES SHE MARRIED OLD MAN FOR COIN

Things that have been said in this case. I did not marry Mr. Preston for money. He didn't have enough to attract anyone in that line. I liked him for himself.

He loved me and I married him. He was a nice type of man. Every body liked him. I thought I could make him happy. How did he propose. Well I don't quite remember, only when he told me he wanted me to be his wife, I willingly consented.

I met met him last November through my sister, who was his house-keeper. We were married February 1. He died in May. I don't care for the money that I got out from the estate.

Will Protect Money.

But what I do want and I shall do it, is to protect the memory of my husband and my own standing in this affair from any insinuations that might be made. That is all the interest I have in the case. I am living now at my husband's home in Charlestown. My own home is at Kittery, Me.

I don't care for publicity, but I do insist on justice. If there was a large estate there might be some excuse for certain persons to talk and make a fuss. The whole estate, as my counsel says, does not amount to more than $2,500, represented chiefly in the house where he made his home.

They try to make it out that he was insane. If he was so you suppose for a minute that I would have married him? In the country he was a very clear-headed and rational man, and alert for his age.

Not Complaining.

I want it made clear that I am not contesting the will or making any complaint. The will leaves my lawyer, Attorney Clarence W. Bowler, $1,000, and divides $500 between myself and sister, Elizabeth E. Hise, of Kittery. My sister had been employed by Mr. Preston several months.

Grand Trunk Branch Is Held Up by Deceit

In Force Until Adjudication of Contractor's $1,500,000 Claim.

Judge Bradley of the Supreme Court today issued an interlocutory decree forbidding the Southern New England Railroad from incumbering or disposing of any property in the State, or removing it from the State, pending adjudication of the bills of John March, the Chicago contractor, against the road.

After July 1 March shall have the right to inspect the company's books and documents and a master will shortly be appointed to divide the issues between March and the company. He claims the stoppage of work on the extension of the Grand Trunk road cost him $1,500,000.

ASK GOVERNOR TO FIX GUILT AS THE POLICE SHIELD "RICHESON"

SALISBURY, Md., June 27.—The search for a serious woman and the prospect of the arrest of a prominent and wealthy Salisbury manufacturer to day held the centre of the investigation into the poisoning of Miss Florence Watkinson.

The twenty-four-year-old housekeeper, whose death in the office of the Home Gas Company brought to light a tragedy which parallels the Avila Linell-Clarence Richeison case in Massachusetts.

The woman sought by the authorities is said to have been the one who was with Florence Watkinson a short time previous to her death, and may possibly have assisted in arranging the girl in the office chair after she had taken the poison.

It came to light today that this married woman in company with a married man, took Miss Watkinson to the district prior to her death for an automobile ride.

The authorities refuse to disclose the name of the Salisbury manufacturer, who is said to have been directly responsible for the death of the girl, but evidence has been secured which establishes beyond any doubt that he had a motive for the crime and was instrumental in securing the poison.

Arrest May Come Today.
It is thought to have transpired, but there is charge of the investigation.

Scandal Smashes British Cabinet
Sir Rufus Isaacs Resigns as Result of Marconi Deal.

LONDON, June 27.—The scandal growing out of the government Marconi contract has resulted, it was learned today, in the resignation of Sir Rufus Isaacs, Sir John Simon, the present solicitor-general, to be his successor. It is said, in the office of attorney-general.

The retirement of Lord George, chairman of the Exchequer, and the eventual breaking up of the present ministry, is now being opened up as the probable outcome of the affair, although the select committee of Parliament which made an investigation expounded the involved government officials.

On April 17, 1912, he purchased 10,000 shares of American Marconi Company stock.

Two days later the government announced that a contract had been entered into the British Marconi Company, by which that corporation was given the exclusive wireless rights throughout the British Empire, and the Marconi shares rose in value following the announcement.

One thousand of the shares bought by Sir Rufus had been taken by Lord George and Lord Murray, then Master of Elibank and chief of the government party. The three officials disposed of a portion of them.

Floating Hospital's First Trip Tomorrow
The Boston Floating Hospital will make its first trip of the summer tomorrow, sailing from the North End Park as usual.

It will go down the harbor for the day, Dr. G. L. Ketteridge, the manager, promises accommodations for more babies than ever before, and the forces of nurses and baby experts who will have charge of the children has been increased.

stated today he has been under close surveillance since the finding of the body of Miss Watkinson and his arrest is expected to take place before the coroner's jury convenes to continue the inquest tonight.

Governor Salisbury will be petitioned to send detectives here to work on the case if the testimony of the witnesses before the coroner's jury tonight fails to establish the identity of the guilty parties.

The witnesses of Salisbury are bankrupt at the way the local authorities have handled the case so far and are afraid those who betrayed the Watkinson girl into taking the poison may never be brought to justice unless the State takes charge of the investigation.

Warned to Keep Silent.
Every witness summoned to tip has been warned not to say anything about the case. The result is that facts have not been made public and the guilty persons have had plenty of time to cover up their tracks and possibly escape prosecution.

DUCHESS OF SUTHERLAND ERLAND, who becomes England's richest woman by the death of the aged Duke.

THE DUCHESS OF SUTHERLAND

RICHEST WOMAN IN ENGLAND BY DUKE'S DEATH

LONDON, June 27.—Cromartie Sutherland-Townshend, formerly Duchess of Sutherland, richest peer in England next to the Duke of Bedford, and largest holder of real estate in Great Britain, possessing title to more than a million and a quarter of acres in England and Scotland and vast tracts in the United States, today became the richest woman in the world by the death of the aged Duke.

The death of the Duke placed his Duchess, who was Lady Maitland from 1868, in the position of the world's wealthiest widow. Sutherland is London is already discussing rapidly the possibility that would be made of the nation's vast wealth, in view of the well known democratic tendencies of the Duchess and her deep interest in social questions.

Interest in the critical illness of the Duke quickly reached to the United States, on account of the peer's well-known philanthropic work in that country and the political aspect of the title to America was to interest capital there in a scheme for the colonization of western Canada.

The Duke of Sutherland owned just over 1,500,000 acres of land. His real estate possessions in Scotland comprised one-sixteenth of the area of that country.

The Duke's Canadian colonization scheme aroused widespread interest when it was explained. Recently his intention was to divide some 12,000 acres of land which he had for several years been purchasing in western Canada, into small farms, to be disposed of to settlers upon advantageous terms.

How to get More Tobacco and Fresher Tobacco for the Same Money

The price you pay for granulated tobacco is more than the cost of the tobacco plus a fair profit, because it must include the cost of the package. You pay for the tin can or cloth bag either by giving more money for your smoke or receiving less tobacco at the same price.

Master Workman Plug Tobacco smokers get fresher, finer flavored, cooler smoking tobacco, because no artificial package can keep the natural flavor of the leaf as well as the old method of pressing the moisture and flavor into the tobacco, and keeping it there with Nature's own protection, a natural leaf wrapper.

You can prove this by buying a plug of Master Workman. Get it today. Cut off a fresh pipe-load and enjoy a real smoke.

ECZEMA BROKE OUT IN PIMPLES

On Arms, then Back and Legs. Itched Very Much. Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Son in Terrible Shape with Eczema. Now Face and Body Good as Ever.

43 Sidney St., Cambridge, Mass.—"Last September I began to feel itching. I would scratch myself and I could not sleep half the night. The eczema broke out in pimples. It first came on my arms and then my back and my legs. My body and legs were a sight. Water came from the pimples. It itched very much more at night than in the daytime and I would scratch them so sometimes I would make them bleed, trying to get relief. I got two bottles of Cuticura and also some ointment which did me no good. After I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment I got relief that very night and could sleep. It took about six or seven weeks to cure me. My son aged ten years was in terrible shape with eczema. He had it all over his body and also on his face. He was so bad we had to keep him home from school for two weeks. His arms were disfigured by the face. There were large sores from his scratching at night on his body and on his face. My wife used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment three times a day. The sores on his face were the worst ones. The skin came off and left a red spot as large as a quarter of a dollar. In seven or eight days the red spot faded away and his face and body are as good as ever, not a scar, no disfigurement whatever." (Signed) Geo. E. Rogers, Sept. 27, 1912.

Cuticura Soap 25c and Cuticura Ointment 50c, are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura," 7, Boston.

Among those interested in the outcome of the plan are Mrs. James M. O'Connell, Walter H. Kilham, Mr. and Mrs. Philip R. Parker, Mrs. Frederic Higgins, Caroline A. Brown, Arthur B. Baker, George J. Burroughs, John Pegg Twissell, J. Randolph Goodale, Jr., Mrs. Amy Lowell, Mrs. Henry M. Whitcomb, Mrs. Andrew J. Gardner, J. Aldrich, Henry W. Jones, Maria W. Tilden, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Westcott, the Frederick B. Pong, the Arthur A. Cushing, Mrs. Ernest H. Jones and Mrs. Edward D. Verplanck. They are all members of the Brookline Educational Society, and the Brookline Friendly Society.

The first dance was held last evening. The attendance and the interest shown encouraged the promoters of the plan. A social admission fee was charged and only recognized residents of the town were permitted to attend, except for a resident's inviting a friend from some other section.

Members of the Education and Friendly Societies stood at matrons and the women of these organizations will serve at all the parties.

Morse Made Blue Serge Suits $15, $20, $25

And here are the reasons:

Dependable Blue Serge Fabrics cost 10% more this season than they have for the past three years.

The cost of skilled tailor-work is also higher.

And yet—despite these increased costs we are giving you the same grade of fabrics, with even better tailoring, at the same popular prices.

All this means values in the most emphatic sense of the word—values that are possible for us to give only because we are manufacturers selling direct to the wearers of our clothes.

OLYMPIC CHAMPIONS
IN NEW ENGLAND
MEET TOMORROW

SOX OUT FOR DOUBLE WIN OVER YANKEES

A double today will be played at the Fenway Park this afternoon between the Red Sox and Yankees, the first game meeting at 1:45.

Yesterday's postponed caused much discomfort among the members of both teams as it necessitated the playing of four games in two days.

Manager Jake Stahl will most likely go through with the schedule he had planned for yesterday, sending Blue Bell against the Yankees in the first game and "Black" O'Brien in the second as he is desirous to get both canters.

Ray Kowling, the Lawrence youngster who is proving a terror to the Boston batting of the American League, will pitch out of the game for the Yankees. It is expected a large crowd of Lawrence followers of Kowling will be down to see his work.

Kowling trimmed the Red Sox on the Yankee last appearance here and created a very favorable impression among the "Yankees." It was the Yankees' first win of the year and the first win under Chance. To show his appreciation for the youngster's fine work, Frank gave him a new suit of $100 out of his own pocket.

Fisher, who with Ford, Keating and McDowell, has been traveling very well of late, will work in the other game.

Neal Bell will be played at shortstop today. The hero of the famous unassisted triple play made an error in the fourth inning but he might be earned because of the fact he has not played in a game for some time.

Hein Wagner is anxious to get back into the game and although his leg is in a mending sling it will be at least a week or ten days before he can play again.

Mayor's Son to Pitch for Norfolks

The Norfolk A. A. and the South Hill A. A. will meet at the Davis Hill Playgrounds, tomorrow. A hot contest is looked for as both teams are made up of the pick of Doan's best ball players and are bitter rivals.

Tom Fitzgerald, the Mayor's son, will pitch for the Norfolks. He has developed wonderfully under Coach O'Brien's training and is one of the best south pitchers in the state. Last Saturday he defeated the Pirates of South Boston in a 12-inning contest. He was Doan's first pitcher in this city and he has this season and proved his worth by defeating "Bud" Mottion of Mechanicville.

ATHLETES ARE READY FOR N. E. MEET EIGHT MEMBERS OF OLYMPIC TEAM COMPETE

THREE ATHLETES WHO WILL GO AFTER TITLES IN CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES.

Cream of College, School and Club Track and Field Stars Entered.

By THOMAS J. MALPIN.

The sporting public of New England will have an opportunity to witness one of the best meets yet seen in this city, when the New England championships are held at Tech Field tomorrow in the afternoon under the direction of the N. E. A. A. U.

The reputation of the athletes who will perform in this meet is not confined solely to New England, for many of the winners of tomorrow's contest are athletes who are well known from coast to coast, as being the greatest men in their events in this country.

At a recent meeting of athletes a former professional track athlete was asked why he did not witness the track events which were held around the city. He replied that he had no interest in these amateurs, meaning the present competitors in amateur contests.

Olympic Stars Compete.

If that former professional athlete had had to compete against men of the caliber of the present amateur athletes, who he was an active competitor, he would never have won a prize for he, like a great many more professionals, was never in a class with the present active competitors in track and field sports.

There are no professional athletes at the present time able to cope with the

PILGRIMS HOPE TO WIN FROM GIANTS TODAY

NEW YORK, June 22.—The Pilgrims were a discouraged bunch of ball players after dropping a doubleheader to the Giants yesterday, but hope to erase up matters by taking the next two games.

Manager Stallings has used nearly all his pitchers up in this strenuous series with the Giants, but has Dickson left and will pitch him against the National League champions today.

It looks as though Dickson will work on the mound for the Giants. The big fellow started off very poorly this year, after having once success the final part of last season, but he is quickly running into form as can be judged by his work in the last few contests, and the Bostonians may expect plenty of trouble from him if he works today. McCreary may change his mind and pitch "Bosky" Wilton. The veteran has been very successful against the Pilgrims.

There is a strong rumor that the Boston management is asking for writers on Arthur Devlin, the veteran third baseman, and gets on very often.

Boxing Bill Approved.

MAIDEN, Wis., June 22.—The bill, repealing a State commission to supervise boxing bouts, was approved by the State Senate yesterday and will go to the Governor for his signature. The bill permits 10-round no-decision contests.

Pure-Ripe-Mellow Distinctly Different

If there is one rule at our Breweries that stands ahead of all others, it is the rule of "Absolute Purity."

Pure ingredients. Pure water.

Every incoming empty barrel or cask cleaned by steam. Every bottle sterilized.

It is true that you can't taste "Purity," but it is a good idea to know it is there.

Half Yearly "Uncalled For" Sale

Taking, as I do, orders for about eight hundred suits a week, on an average, with the strongest guarantee ever given by a custom tailor (to wit: Any garment ordered of me, if not fitted to the perfect satisfaction of the customer, will be immediately replaced by a new garment), means that sometimes I have occasion to put on the line suits that I call "uncalled for," made to fit the customer, but on account of not being done on time, death or some other cause, the suit remains with me after a deposit has been paid. Twice each year, in all my stores, I dispose of these garments at little less than half of what they originally sold for. I have found in the past that a transient customer, getting a good suit with a Mitchell the Tailor label, generally becomes a permanent customer.

Suits made up to measure by me, blue serge, black unfinished worsteds, and a varied assortment of fancy worsteds in all the new pencil stripes, original price $15, $18, $20. For the next week, if you can be fitted, the price will be

$5 $6 $8

Trousers made up for prices ranging from $6, $7 to $8, fine worsteds, chevots, with a great number of flannels, uncalled for. Now price

$2.15

Odd Coats. Many of these coats are window coats, made up to display cloths that we have disposed of, some made for customers for which we made duplicate coats. I have a great variety of these which I will sell for

$3.00

Balance of all ends in stock, including blue serge. I will take your measure. Suit to order.

BOSTON MIGHT AIR FINANCE PROBE

By B. C. FORBES.

Business Editor of the American.

The first demand that Judge's official Markham charges be taken up by Washington was made in this column. My suggestion for a probe forward.

INVESTIGATE THE TELEPHONE CALLS FROM WASHINGTON TO THE OFFICES AND BRANCH OFFICES OF CERTAIN STOCK EXCHANGE FIRMS, AND WHEN TRAILS HAVE BEEN DISCOVERED EXAMINE THE BOOKS OF THE BROKERS.

Wall Street is the greatest money factory in the country. It can turn out more false stories between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m. than the Rhine in its highest days could produce in a year. But at Wall Street greed is not untrue.

One report that will not down, is that every now and then on the eve of an important political or legal event, the wires between Washington and Wall Street are full of mysterious orders.

A Boston gentleman whose name has often been linked with speculative stock market deals, and who is now in the city, has been quoted as saying that the speculative exploits of Washington should be probed.

STOCK MARKET AND FINANCIAL NEWS

By W. H. ROSS, Financial Editor.

Wall Street and irregularly featured stocks in early trading. Some local issues were more active than others.

Most active stocks moved fractionally, but a few continued to advance.

Southern Pacific went down 1/4, New York Central 1/4 and Union Pacific 1/4.

Chicago & North Western 1/4, and Illinois Central 1/4.

Union Pacific Offered Strong.

Union Pacific was strong when the New York market opened because of the fact that it was the only stock in the country and abroad.

The market was not very satisfactory in other lines, and when trading had been discovered, the market was not very satisfactory.

Most active stocks moved fractionally, but a few continued to advance.

Southern Pacific went down 1/4, New York Central 1/4 and Union Pacific 1/4.

Chicago & North Western 1/4, and Illinois Central 1/4.

Union Pacific Offered Strong.

Union Pacific was strong when the New York market opened because of the fact that it was the only stock in the country and abroad.

The market was not very satisfactory in other lines, and when trading had been discovered, the market was not very satisfactory.

Wall Street is the greatest money factory in the country. It can turn out more false stories between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m. than the Rhine in its highest days could produce in a year.

But at Wall Street greed is not untrue. One report that will not down, is that every now and then on the eve of an important political or legal event, the wires between Washington and Wall Street are full of mysterious orders.

A Boston gentleman whose name has often been linked with speculative stock market deals, and who is now in the city, has been quoted as saying that the speculative exploits of Washington should be probed.
